

International Schumpeter Society (ISS) 2022 Conference
July 8-10, 2022, at Hunan Normal University, Changsha, P. R. China
Call for Papers

The biennial conference of the 19th International Schumpeter Society Conference will be held in 2022 in Changsha, P. R. China. The conference location will be the Jiaxingshizun Hotel near the campus of Hunan Normal University for three days, July 8-10, 2022. The Schumpeter Prize dinner will be held on July 9. Alternatively, the conference will be held online if the Covid-19 is not well controlled by February 2022.

The theme for ISS 2022 conference is “Technological Revolution and New Driving Forces for Global Sustainable Development”. Our hope is that the ISS 2022 conference will be an opportunity for scholars, policy makers and practitioners with different methodological approaches, paradigm perspectives, and working interests to come together to focus on innovation and change related to issues of global sustainable development.

ISS members and nonmembers alike are invited to submit abstracts for presentation at the conference. The theme of the Conference is intended to be broad and submission and thematic sessions dealing with evolutionary economics, innovation, technological revolution, growth and development and other topics typical of this conference are all welcome. The abstract of the paper must not exceed 800 words. Proposals for sessions should include: a title for the session, the name(s) of the session coordinator(s), a brief presentation of the entire session, a list of 4 or 5 papers to be included in the session with authors and an abstract no more than 800 words for each of them. Please find instructions for submission on the Conference website <http://>

The amount of the Conference fees will be fixed in February 2022 when it had been decided whether the Conference will take place online or in presence. We will provide some financial support for selected graduate students (or young scholars), in particular those from developing countries. The exact amount will be decided later, depending upon ex-post budget situations. Those in need of such support can write to the conference chairman.

Following the tradition, selected papers presented at the ISS 2022 conference will be published in a special issue of the Journal of Evolutionary Economics (official journal of the ISS), as well as in edited volumes published by the Springer Press and/or the Cambridge University Press.
